

protecting what matters most... A LOOK INTO THE AHT DIFFERENCE

WHAT WE DO

We help protect what matters most to our clients - making sure they're prepared when the unexpected happens.

Managing and transferring risk in the educational environment has increased in complexity over recent years. Our education professionals take a proactive approach to servicing clients – keeping current with industry changes at a macro and micro level to help schools evaluate this ever-changing landscape.

We have wide-ranging expertise in the specific risk factors that schools and higher education clients face, such as student and faculty safety on campus and while traveling abroad and managing employment and tenure claims.

To address these risk factors, we offer:

- Pre-incident Planning to help get clients organized and understand responses to various events
- Benchmarking around key areas of risk – cyber and management liability, fiduciary and crime, umbrella limits
- Duty of Care expertise for educational institutions with overseas programs
- Focused, Highly Experienced Professionals

Our priority is our clients - to protect them, their assets and their futures.

We give educational institution leaders peace of mind to know:

- Their students and faculty are protected
- Their institution is prepared for the unexpected
- Their buying decisions are in line with peers

We do all of this, and more, to help Protect What Matters Most to our education leaders, faculty, students and families.

WHY WE DO WHAT WE DO

WHO WE SERVE

- Private & Independent K-12 Schools
- Online Technology, Vocational & Community Colleges
- Colleges & Universities
- Charter Schools

With clients ranging from large state university systems with thousands of students to boarding and private day schools, AHT has the proven experience to manage every institution's unique culture and risk profile while understanding the common risk threads that tie them together.

CLIENT-DRIVEN INNOVATORS

Believing there is no off-the-shelf solution that will fit every institution's unique needs

MORE THAN A BROKER

Collaborating with clients, their other key business partners and industry professionals to provide the most comprehensive solutions

RELATIONSHIP BUILDERS

Utilizing our strong relationships with insurers has proven invaluable to our education clients

SERVICE LEADERS

Taking a white-glove, proactive approach to continuously identify and help mitigate risks clients may face

WHO WE ARE

"AHT's knowledge of schools, our legal environment and the insurance industry is in-depth. We view them as an extension of our team. They are proactive with solutions and alert us of development exposures. AHT even helps us with risk management, policy recommendations and loss control advice."

- Chief Financial Officer, Private Boarding School