

STRANGER THINGS...

about insurance

Body Part Insurance?

Going out on a limb...with a big paycheck in tow.

Did you know if your livelihood depends on a part of your body, you may be able to get that vital body part insured? From the obvious to the obscure, if it's your "money maker," you best protect it!

Would guitarist Keith Richards be a Rolling Stone without his hands? Not unless he learned to sing, which is why the veteran rockstar has his hands insured for $1.6 million.

Bond, James Bond, would just be, well...out of a job if any part of his super spy physique were to fall victim to a super villain's scheme, which is why Daniel Craig has a $9.5 million insurance policy for his whole body.

Most people aim to maintain their vision, but one silent film star, Ben Turpin, took out a $25,000 policy to make sure he could still afford the Hollywood lifestyle if his famous cross-eyed stare ever became uncrossed.

Although we aren't trained bodyguards, we DO know how to protect your most valuable assets.

Contact us to discuss your insurance portfolio to make sure you're properly protected.